“Body Imperfect” by Debi Davis

1. What is Davis’s point in comparing the reactions of adults and children to her disability? (L4)
2. What does this say about the difference between adults and children? Why do adults act one way and children another way? (L4)
3. Assess the effectiveness of Davis’s “bruised fruit” metaphor in paragraph 4? (L3)
4. How would you characterize Davis’s tone as she describes the children and adults she meets? Is there a difference? And if so, compare. (L4/L3)
